BROTHER OF CASTRO OFF TO SANTIAGO

By STANFORD BRADSHAW
SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Haiti protested to the Inter-American Foreign Ministers Conference today against the invasion of that Negro republic by a small band of revolutionaries.

The Haitian delegation said the invaders, who terrorized a village after landing Thursday, are believed to have come from Cuba. Haitian troops are hunting them.

This was the first case of violence formally brought to the attention of the conference, called to discuss Caribbean tension.

Haiti's foreign minister, Louis Mars, delivered the protest to Foreign Minister German Vergara Donoso of Chile, chairman of the conference.

The Haitian note, however, may be referred to the Organization of American States instead of being taken up formally by the ministers. Their meeting is scheduled to wind up Tuesday.

Mars declared Haiti is "the victim of aggression whose manifest objective is to alter public order and menace the stability of a constitutional government."

His complaint noted that about 30 men with long beards and green uniforms, who were possibly Cuban revolutionaries, had landed on Haiti's south coast. Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's brother Raul was due in Santiago as the foreign ministers of Latin America and the United States argued final details of a compromise plan to calm the Caribbean.

The younger Castro's impact on the foreign ministers' talks—now in their sixth day—was likely to be light. It was not even certain he would appear before the conference. However, it was understood in Havana that he was bringing documents purporting to link the Dominican Republic's dictator, Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo, with the anti-Castro conspiracy the Cuban regime says it uncovered last week.

The foreign ministers meanwhile hammered out agreement on a set of resolutions being presented to the conference's general committee. It was expected they would be signed at a final conference session Tuesday.

The key resolution would give the already existing Inter-American (Turn to Page Ten)

Fate Keeps Girl From Altar for Second Time

SOUTH GATE, Calif. (AP)—Last year an auto accident wrecked the wedding plans of Geraldine Neff—just one night before the marriage was to take place.

Geraldine was to marry John Fulton of nearby Compton on June 29, 1958. The night before the wedding Fulton was involved in an accident en route to a bachelor party. He was left permanently paralyzed. About three months ago he broke off the engagement.

Two months later, the 19-year-old South Gate girl became engaged to Cecil Roberts of Chino, Calif.

Last Friday night, driving alone near Las Vegas, Nev., Miss Neff made a U-turn and crashed into another car.

She was to have married Roberts Saturday. But she died in the crash.

President Leads Nation in Mourning Death of Halsey

FISHERS ISLAND, N.Y. (AP)—President Eisenhower led the nation today in mourning the death of Fleet Adm. William F. (Bull) Halsey.

Halsey, 76, died here Sunday of a heart attack while vacationing. He gained fame as the admiral who chased the Japanese fleet to its death in the Pacific in World War II.

Eisenhower, who heard the news of Halsey's death at Gettysburg, Pa., said he had lost a warm personal friend, and the nation one of its "great natural leaders."

"His great personal contribution to the successful campaigns in the Pacific and the exploits of the forces under his command are a brilliant part of American military history," said Eisenhower.

Gavin Predicts Senate Will Accept and President Sign Measure Providing the Dam

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Leon H. Gavin (R-Pa.) said today he is happy that the "frustrating fight" over the proposed Kinzua flood control dam is over.

He predicted the Senate will readily accept a joint House-Senate Conference Committee's recommendations on the omnibus public works bill, which includes an additional $1,400,000 for Kinzua.

"And I doubt very much that there will be any trouble over the President signing the bill," Gavin told a newsman.

The conferees' report on the $1,200,000,000 flood control and navigation bill was accepted by the House Friday.

Gavin, who has fought for funds for the 113-million-dollar Kinzua dam and reservoir for many years, said every effort will be made to expedite the remaining legislative steps and to let contracts for beginning the vast project.

Gavin said the dam would be the largest federal project of its kind ever undertaken in the north-eastern United States.

"The frustrating fight is now over," he said. "It is gratifying to me because I think this will be one of the most important projects ever undertaken on behalf of the industrial and economic life of western Pennsylvania." (Turn to Page Ten)

Four Killed in Traffic Accident in Cambria County

CRESSON, Pa. (AP)—A Sunday morning traffic crash on Route 22 near Cresson in Cambria County left four persons dead and five others hospitalized.

State police said an auto operated by Eugene George, 24, Nanty Glo, crossed the highway into the path of a car driven by Robert W. Briggs, 41, of Huntingdon.

Briggs was killed and George hospitalized in satisfactory condition.

Other victims were Thomas N. Corbin, 41, of Lakewood, Calif., his wife, Dorothy Mae, 36, and Edwin L. Johnson, 28, of Nanty Glo. Pa. Mrs. Corbin was a sister of Briggs.

The injured included two children of the Corbins, Richard, 12, and Susie, 6. Both were reported in fair condition in Mercy Hospital at Altoona.

Others injured were Jerome A. Thomas, 27, Ebensburg, and Marshall Showalter, 6, Huntingdon. Both are in fair condition.

Briggs was driving the Corbin family to Huntingdon after meeting them at a train in Pittsburgh. The Showalter boy, a nephew of Briggs, had been visiting in Pittsburgh and was returning home.

Thomas and Johnson were riding in George's auto.

PEEPHOLERS INJURED SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—

Fast Flight May Save Man Bitten By Indian Cobra

ST. JOSEPH'S Mo. (AP)—A 4-foot-long Indian cobra bit an employee of reptile garden here Sunday. He may live because of a dramatic 1,300-mile flight from Miami, Fla.

The Coast Guard and the Air Force used anti-cobra serum from Miami to St. Joseph after William White, 32, was bitten. The serum was administered six hours later.

A single drop of cobra venom can be fatal. Usually it takes only four hours to kill, said William H. Haast, operator of the Miami serpentarium.

But the cobra's fangs pierced a sack of heavy material before they hit White on a thumb. The bag apparently absorbed some of the venom.

A hospital attendant said White, who has been bitten about 100 times by nonpoisonous snakes during his four years at the reptile garden, remarked as the serum was injected "I knew all the time I'd okay."

A few minutes after midnight, Dr. C. C. DuMont said White's condition was satisfactory.

ASKS FOR REFUND HARRISBURG (AP)—G.

Franklin McSorley, former Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission chairman, today asked the Dauphin County Court to refund $1,355 in court expenses he said he spent in appealing his conviction, Nov. 18, 1957, on charges of misfeasance, malfeasance and nonfeasance as head of the toll road agency.

McSorley, 47, said he was a victim of a "frame-up" by the county. He said he was never given a fair trial and that the county officials were trying to "frame" him.

ELEVEN DIE IN COLLISION IN MISSOURI

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Two cars smashed head-on Sunday night in a rending crash that killed 11 persons.

Eight others were injured in the two cars. Six of the dead were adults and five were children.

One wrecked car was owned by G.W. Eddy of White Hall, Ill., and the other by LeRoy Thompson, 31, of Richmond, Mo. Eddy died in the crash; Thompson was hurt.

At Richmond, friends said Thompson, his wife, Jessie, 33, and eight of their children had started to St. Louis on vacation.

The crash occurred on a flat, straight section of road in clear weather.

The Missouri Highway Patrol quoted a witness as saying one car went off on the shoulder, swerved back across the pavement and hit the other one head-on.

Truck Driver Worried Over Dead Utility Wire

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Jack Anderson, 27, was ready to pull out of a driveway with a truckload of furniture when a 2,300-volt power line broke and fell across the truck cab.

The crew found the line carried no electricity.

Senators Look to White House for Action in Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—More U. S. senators were looking to the White House for help in settling the nationwide steel strike as joint negotiations were set here today.

Talks between teams representing the industry and the striking United Steelworkers of America recessed for the weekend last Friday as the stoppage became a month old. There was no indication of progress toward agreement on a new contract.

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, is sitting in on the negotiations.

Two Republican senators announced they would introduce in the Senate today a resolution asking that President Eisenhower make public the facts about the strike that he possesses.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell has been acting as Eisenhower's fact-finder on the strike.

Sens. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) and George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) said in a joint statement in Washington that their resolution would be a substitute for a pending resolution introduced by Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) and signed by 32 other Democratic senators.

Two Little Sisters and Pilot Dead in Crash

INDIANA, Pa. (AP)—Two little sisters who left their parents' car at a picnic to go for an airplane ride were killed Sunday along with the pilot when the craft crashed in a southwestern Pennsylvania corn field.

The horrified parents looked on from the picnic spot as the plane crashed within 300 yards of the runway it was to land on. Cause of the crash was not determined.

The victims were William E. Goss, 35, of Hillsdale, Pa., the pilot, Reha Westover, 9, and her sister, Barbara Ann, 10, daughters of Daryl Westover of North Spangler, Pa.

The plane crashed on the farm of W. F. Wagner, about 30 miles east of Indiana. Goss had a private landing field on the farm. He was a veteran pilot.

The Westovers and their children had gone to the farm for a Sunday picnic. They met Goss, a friend of the family, and the children asked him to take them for a ride. Goss agreed.

He was returning to the landing field when trouble developed in the small craft. It came down nose first in the corn field.

Confederate Veteran Remains About Same

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Confederate veteran Walter Williams, critically ill for a week, remains "about the same," his daughter said Sunday night.

Williams, 116, last survivor of the Civil War armies, took some nourishment Sunday morning but none the rest of the day.

Dr. Russell Wolfe, Williams' physician, reported a week ago that the old soldier's death could be expected within days. An attack of pneumonia about six weeks ago left him in a weakened condition.

Warren Entry in Soap Box Derby Loses in Second Heat But Enjoys Numerous Thrills

Bruce Matve, Warren Soap Box Derby champion, receives a welcome duplicated no other place in the world as he arrives in Akron, O., to compete in the 22nd All-American. After being whisked down the city's Main St. behind a police escort, he mounts the "Golden Stairs" as a band plays and the crowd cheers in a ceremony reserved only for boys who become Soap Box racing champions. This scene was repeated again and again in front of All-American headquarters until a record field of 170 boy champions from the United States and overseas had checked in for the amateur racing event sponsored by Chevrolet. Following the roaring welcome, the champs met stars of sports, movies and television, moved into special quarters at Derbytown and primed home-made coasting cars for the All-American finals on Sunday. New State Law Is Being Invoked In Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A brand new weapon was unleashed in the Little Rock school battle today—segregated classes in an integrated school.

School officials re-scheduled classes for Ann McLeod, one of 700 white students at Hall High, so she won't have to sit with any of the three Negro girls who integrated Hall last week.

Ann's father, attorney John A. McLeod Jr., invoked a little-noted state law to get segregated classes for his daughter. School officials agreed the law, passed with a batch of other segregation measures in the 1958 special legislature, was valid. The law says no student (Turn to Page Ten)

France Demands West Back Policy All Way in Algeria

L'ILE BOUCHARD, France (AP)—Premier Michel Debre says France won't be pushed around by her allies any more and will demand they back up her war in Algeria all the way.

His speech sounded like a public preview of what President Charles de Gaulle will tell President Eisenhower when the two confer in private next month.

Debre spoke to his constituents Sunday in this Loire Valley village in west central France.

The premier, a faithful supporter of De Gaulle's goal of restoring the authority of France on the international scene, insisted this does not mean France is doomed to stand alone within the Western alliance.

He said De Gaulle's policy "is a reaction against the alliances which, through our weakness, led to our subjection to foreign powers which did not hesitate to op-

ULTIMATUM ISSUED BY GOP LEADER

HARRISBURG (AP)—Senate Republicans left it entirely to the Democrats today whether the House-passed 4 per cent sales tax plan receives final legislative approval.

The Republican majority will produce no more than four votes for the compromise 14 3/4-million dollar tax measure, GOP floor leader James S. Berger said Sunday night.

Four Republican votes would be just enough to pass the measure provided the entire 22-member Democratic bloc votes favorably. It takes 26 votes to pass a measure in the Senate.

"We are assuming that they (the Democratic minority) will produce their 22 votes and we will produce four," Berger told newsmen.

He said the bill would be brought up for a vote on Wednesday.

Berger left unanswered the question of what Republicans would do if any of the Democrats defected, as several have indicated.

Sen. William H. Lane (D-Washington) has threatened a filibuster. Sen. Harry E. Seyler (D-York) has said he hasn't made up his mind whether he will vote on the measure.

Theodore F. Freed, York County Republican chairman, has insisted that the Senate Republicans refuse to make up any more than four votes, particularly if Seyler should vote against it.

Berger also said that it would be up to the GOP caucus to decide if the 4 per cent sales tax (Turn to Page Ten)

Organized Labor Leaders Nursing Political Wounds

By NORMAN WALKER
FOREST PARK, Pa. (AP)—Top leaders of organized labor gathered today to nurse political wounds from their recent labor bill defeat in Congress and to consider inter-union conflict.

Members of the AFL-CIO Executive Council—the federation's high command—mapped plans to try to salvage the best bill possible from the union viewpoint between Senate and House-passed versions.

The union leaders like neither one, but prefer the Senate bill sponsored by Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-NC) over the House bill by Reps. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga) and Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich). The House bill is supported by President Eisenhower.

Federation leaders already were talking of stepping up political action plans to try to defeat in the 1960 election many of the members of the Democratic-Republican coalition which formed to put over the Landrum-Griffin House bill last week.

Labor leaders are growing cool to the Democratic party, one member of the AFL-CIO high command told newsmen.

This official said privately that union leaders feel the Democrats, with almost a two-thirds majority of House and Senate, did not exercise the political control available to them.

New Method of State Aid for Hospitals in Pa.

By FRED B. WALTERS
HARRISBURG (AP)—A new method for giving state aid to hospitals to meet the spiraling cost of free medical care for persons unable to pay appeared to be approaching a dead end today.

Chairman J. Dean Polen (D-Washington) of the House Appropriations Committee said he wants to give further study to the proposal, an intimation it won't be approved by the committee.

The legislation, backed by Philadelphia area hospitals, would substitute the so-called purchase-of-care system for the current outright grants to the 187 state-aided hospitals.

At present, the state appropriates a lump sum every two years to be distributed directly to hospitals for the care they give persons unable to pay.

Under purchase-of-care, the money would be appropriated to the Public Welfare Department as a fund from which the hospitals would draw to pay for this same care.

One significant difference is this: the state may not, under its constitution, make outright grants to sectarian hospitals. Under purchase-of-care, these hospitals could be brought into the subsidy program, since it is not a direct grant. It is estimated about 40 sectarian hospitals would benefit.

The Hospital Council of Philadelphia's executive director, Dr. C. Rufus Rorem, estimated the purchase-of-care plan would cost about 33½ millions, of which the federal government would pay 5 millions, resulting in a saving to the state.

Warren's Company A Plays Important Part at Camp

By DON ANDERSON

Meadville Tribune Staff Writer

INDIANTOWN GAP — No globe-jarring battles were won or lost in the 15-day interim of tactics and maneuvers here at Indiantown Gap, but Pennsylvania National Guard's 28th Infantry Division is probably a lot more battle-wise.

Division Commander Maj. Gen. Henry K. Pluck was immensely pleased with the division in their transition to a "Pentomic" unit.

Korean veteran Pvt. James E. Johnston of Bradford's Company D opined that the division would be ready in six months' time to go into combat. "We have a lot of experienced men in the outfit now and the training under the new organization has contributed a lot more. We learn a lot in two weeks here but two weeks isn't long enough."

Included in the division's heavy two-week log book of training are several pages devoted to Northwestern Pennsylvania's elements of the First Battle Group, 12th Infantry which, since the reorganization of the entire National Guard into a "Pentomic" fighting force June 1 of this year, has undergone a marked facelifting.

Lt. Col. James W. Kitchen of Erie, a Second Army advisor to the First Battle Group, outlined the reorganization of the National Guard, pointing out the increased fire power, more complex communication system and the tailoring for atomic or nuclear warfare.

The First Battle Group, commanded by Lt. Col. Robert B. Allen of Bradford, has according to many of Co. Allen's staff, undergone a very efficient and orderly change for the better.

The new group, which, like all other battle groups includes a headquarters company, a combat support company and five rifle companies, is composed of units from Bradford, Erie, Franklin, Kane, Meadville, Oil City and Warren.

The unit, operating for the first time under battle group organization, moved from its respective home stations to Indiantown Gap Military Reservation near Harrisburg July 31 and were in full operation within 48 hours after departure.

First Sgt. of Company C George Sterner of Oil City, said that after the normal confusion of the first few hours men settled down to a good training program. "Men are training better and are really getting the idea of what's going on with this new setup. The simpler organization saves a lot of time and confusion."

Capt. Phillip D. Maines, commander of Warren's Company A, remarked that he thought the increased personnel for the respective units had increased the enthusiasm of the men in his platoon and the smoothness with which they operated after ironing-out first-day wrinkles. "The men seem to know what's going on now. But with a lengthened encampment we could get much more accomplished."

First Lt. Joseph E. Smollek, Warren's executive officer, had charge of mortar fire Aug. 12, while Erie's Company E commander, Capt. Lemoine F. Olsen and Company B's 2nd Lt. Edward J. Schenker and CWO Joseph J. Borgia, also of Erie, took part in a 106 mm demonstration. The 106 mm recoilless rifle is the latest addition to the infantry and packs an Ingolite-right wallop.

Erie's Combat Support Company officers, 1st Lt. Garrett W. Conover and 1st Lt. Robert Mackay, Jr., iterated the function of the newly created combat support company and how its creation eliminated two companies and gave more cover to a larger front.

Behind the whole reorganization was a tremendous amount of paper work, experimentation and special study by officers of the First Battle Group, who attended a week's refresher course at Ft. Benning, Ga., in relation to the change. Presently, three staff members, Lt. Col. Edward C. Laufenberg, executive officer from Erie; Major Thomas J. Smith, administrative officer from Wilcox; and Major Clarence W. Decker, intelligence officer from Fairview, are taking 15-week correspondence courses pertaining to the reorganization.

But the whole two-week encampment was not inordinating of "enemy" emplacements, capturing of positions through squad tactics, qualification with various hand weapons, or piercing of 10-inch steel with recoilless rifles.

After the thunder of gunfire died away and the smoke of "battle" cleared, there was still time for softball in the company area or drill team competition between companies.

GIs, battle-worn with three days in the field on bivouac, scrubbed off the red eastern Pennsylvania dust and hooped it over to the service club for a dance, or struck out for Harrisburg for a reconnaissance of the city's installations.

On the platoon level, where the dogfights by now replaced his civilian vocabulary with the functional and characteristically military parts of speech, platoon sergeants began to see where a unit has taken shape where 70-90 odd pieces once were two weeks ago.

Frewsburg Man Invents Safety Device for Tots

FREWSBURG, N. Y.—A budding industry in Frewsburg has the answer to a diving problem that has plagued parents ever since the advent of the automobile.

It's invented a car seat with a safety belt for the children who are too old to be considered babies, but still too young to refrain from playing around in a moving car.

The concern, called Da Vee Manufacturing Company, is owned by David L. Yoakum, Riverside, Frewsburg. Patents on Mr. Yoakum's invention are pending in Washington.

Begun two months ago, manufacture of the seat has resulted in about 400 units so far and national sales efforts are just beginning to bear fruit.

It is a padded, plastic-covered seat which fastens securely to any automobile seat by means of a torsion spring. When used at the supper table or in the back yard, the spring folds out of the way.

Mr. Yoakum named the product "Da Vee" for his son, David, Jr., who with his sister, Diana Lee, models the product for promotional literature.

Presently employing a salesman, a factory foreman and two factory representatives plus part-time help, the firm lets parts of the work out to other Jamestown companies.

Jamestown Finishes, Inc., makes the seat fabric, a cloth-backed plastic; Jamestown Container Corporation makes the sturdy frame, and Percy's Furniture Company, Lakewood, sews the fabric into place around the frame once it is assembled.

Around the Area With The County Agent!

By Bernie Wingert, Warren County Agricultural Agent

Here we are at the beautiful Penn State University Campus beginning another 4-H Club week. Over a thousand boys and girls from each county in the state will be spending the week here getting a taste of college life. They live in the dormitories, eat in the cafeteria, and participate in a great number of activities all over this huge campus.

Nineteen young people from Warren County are participating in the activities. Already they've had a busy day. We left Warren with four automobiles and a luggage trailer at 9:15 this morning and after "ump-teen" stops along the way to retie a canvas on the trailer, change a tire, buy milkshakes, and hamburgers and french fries, buy another tire, etc., we're here and everyone is safely in a room with enough equipment to stay for the rest of the summer rather than for just four days.

In a few minutes I'll be leaving to return to Warren. I've had time to visit the plant pathology laboratory while here, and get some answers on a Christmas tree disease that we couldn't diagnose in the Extension office, also I got some information from the researchers about head lettuce that is rotting instead of forming heads. Here is where all the answers come from that we have for Warren County people on disease and insect problems and what have you.

Well, I didn't mean to talk about plant problems, what I want to discuss is 4-H Club Week. Between now and Thursday these young folks will be busy all the time participating in hundreds of activities. Some will engage in judging contests. Judging of dairy cattle, beef, hogs, sheep are only a few of the contests. There will be demonstration contests in clothing construction, clothing selection, child care, vegetable preparation and preservation, poultry foods, home management health and safety. This is only a short list of the type of judging and demonstrations that the young folks engage in.

What else goes on—sports activities include volleyball, tennis, bowling, swimming, softball tournaments, and track events. Assembly programs will include lively song sessions with plenty of real talent from a number of counties. Our own County 4-H band will participate in Wednesday evening's assembly. Speakers will include H. R. Albrecht, Dean and Director of Agricultural Extension Service; Lyman E. Jackson, Dean of the College of Agriculture and—but you're not interested in who's going to speak to these boys and girls without knowing what they have to say. There's a long list of Who's Who in 4-H Week and you can be sure they all have something worthwhile for the 4-H'ers.

In the evenings after assembly program are finished the 4-H'ers dash madly for Recreation Hall to spend several hours at the fun party, it includes a record hop square dancing. It's lights out at 11:00 p. m. but we know there's little sleeping done.

Certainly 4-H Club Week provides an opportunity for a lot of healthy, intelligent young Pennsylvanians to engage in an experience they will remember for years to come.

Northern Area Board Studies Current Legislative Activity

During its August meeting, Northern Area Joint School Board devoted considerable time to discussion of effects of current legislative and finance activity at the state level.

The reported reluctance of responsible legislators to support the tax program for the finance of House Bill 1108 was discussed, and under the leadership of President Alden Abolony, the joint board passed a resolution requesting each of its member boards to make known to proper legislators and state groups the alarming depletion of reserve financial strength which each district is experiencing at this time.

A second resolution took notice of recent unexpected changes in the amount of state reimbursement which will accrue to each district as a result of the drastic change in market values by the State Tax Equalization Board and which requested each district to appeal its case to the above (state) body.

In the monthly report of Dr. Everett Landin, supervising principal, a detailed table was presented to acquaint board members with the financial advantage which would result if Farmington and Pine Grove Townships were to be incorporated into a merged or union district with each other or with the present Sugar Grove Union District.

It was pointed out that, although this proposal was defeated at the polls in 1956 by voters in Pine Grove Township, it may be wise to consider submitting it for voters' consideration at a future time. Although the full financial benefit of the union district is already being received by the union as approved by the voters in 1956, a total of $7,035.57 of additional state aid could have been received this year if Pine Grove and Farmington Townships could have been included in such a district.

It was also shown that if Senate Bill 780, currently before the state's General Assembly, should be passed, it will reduce the supplemental payment to individual districts operating in a joint system without being union or merged districts and that, after July, 1960, the monetary gain of a union or merged districts and that, after July 1960, the monetary gain of a union or merged district will be $9,380.97 for each year if present student numbers continue.

The prospect for additional students indicates a still larger figure will be lost and that it would be but a relatively short before added state funds would fully pay all indebtedness which individual districts may now possess.

Board members were acquainted with a variety of additional matters through the supervising principal's report. A summary of the annual administrators' conference at The Pennsylvania State University in late July, presented a review of these sessions, which were constructed around the Problem of public junior colleges for Pennsylvania. It was also reported a letter, recently received from Edward J. Pollock, editorial department of

News of Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The networks give equal time in controversies, so why shouldn't TV columns? Here's Warner Anderson's view of The Lineup changes.

Last week Tom Tully said he was quitting the San Francisco police series because after being a star for five years "I didn't want to carry papers in the back-ground." He complained that two young actors had been brought in to help the show compete with the youthful 77 Sunset Strip.

Ex-partners Tully and Anderson are about as different as any two actors could be. Tully is tough and outspoken, Anderson talks quietly with well-chosen words. When told of Tom's comments, he thought long and hard and then replied: "Each man should choose the way he wants his career to go. I have decided to stay with the show...."

"CBS, which owns The Lineup, decided—and I think wisely—that it should have a change of format.

It was decided to bring new blood in. But, in order to preserve continuity, one of the stars was to remain. CBS decided by themselves to choose me.

"I am now working with three new boys and one girl and I think we are going to have an outstanding show when we go back on the air Sept. 30. We have nowhere to go but up."

What about Tully's claim that the newcomers are taking over the show?

"My duties will remain the same. I'll have star billing. My role is unchanged. I'll be running the department, as before."

Take a look at the West and North hands only. You have doubled four diamonds and open the ace of hearts. What is your next play?

Jan. (Mrs. Tobias) Stone in that West seat had what looked like a mighty sound double of South's four diamond bid.

After leading that ace of hearts she looked over dummy carefully. Most players would refuse to lead a trump on the theory that it would cost a trick but Jan felt that she could surely get that trick back with interest and promptly played the ace and jack of diamonds.

Her play worked out beautifully. A spade return would have set the hand one trick only; a club shift would have given South his contract but the diamond play led to a two trick set.

HARRISBURG (AP)—In all the legislative furor about more state aid for schools there has been a down-pedaling on the question of whether teachers' salaries should be increased.

Few Pennsylvanians realize that the 200 million dollars being asked for extra state school subsidies wouldn't put a nickel more in a teacher's pay envelope.

It's the position of school directors and organized teachers that the 200 millions is needed to get school districts out of the red and finance increased educational standards.

Legislative leaders are calling the 200-million-dollar figure unrealistic at a time when the 3 per cent sales tax has been raised to 3 1/2 per cent and is likely to jump to 4 per cent.

Instead, they are talking in terms of about 28 million dollars. There is support in some quarters for a 3 per cent sales tax on clothing to raise 90 million dollars. Even that's far short of the 200-million-dollar goal set by school organizations.

That's why you get only a quizzical reply from lawmakers to any questions about the Pennsylvania State Education Assn. plan to increase teachers' salaries by about 64 million dollars in the next two years.

Basically, the proposal would establish a new minimum salary of $4,500 a year instead of the present $3,600 and provide for a series of automatic $300-a-year pay boosts. For most teachers, automatic increments of $200 a year, started nearly 10 years ago, will end next year.

At first blush, an observer of the capitol scene would describe the PSEA's objective as virtually hopeless in the present tight-money climate of the Legislature.

But you don't have to go back too far to find a similar situation which brought the opposite result.

In the marathon 1955-56 session, former Gov. Leader found little or no money for increased teachers' salaries. Both Republican and Democratic legislative leaders agreed with him.

Then the Senate Education Committee sent to the floor a measure to give teachers a 32-million-dollar cost-of-living increase. The action caught the administration and legislative leaders off-guard.

The bill was pushed through the Legislature. The governor approved the pay boost but vetoed a companion bill to give school districts more money to help pay for it.

Many school boards are still feeling the effect of that squeeze. A. Clair Moser, PSEA assistant executive secretary, is one of the staunchest lobbyists in the Legislature. Asked about the dark picture confronting teachers on their pay boost request, he said:

"Don't count us out until the ball game is over."

It's now two out in the last half of the ninth inning for Moser and his cohorts. Will it be another home run?

SOLONS SPEED DAM PLANS

Financing of the proposed Flood Protection Reservoir at Kinzua advanced another step nearer to realization Friday when the House at Washington accepted the Senate and House Conference report on the omnibus $1,200,000,000 flood control and navigation bill.

We have been reminded that the conferees' version of the omnibus bill must be accepted by the Senate and signed by President Eisenhower before it becomes a law—and the dirt begins to fly along the Allegheny Valley between Warren and Corydon!

Congressman Leon H. Gavin, however, predicts the bill will proceed favorably. He says the Army Corps of Engineers is awaiting final action to dig into the preliminaries for the big dam where they left off when legal action by Seneca Indians and legislative controversy developed to halt plans.

Rep. Gavin terms the Dam project the "most frustrating battle" he has been in during his long representation of the 23rd district. He reminds that once the $2,000,000 is set, work on the project will be accelerated and according to our representative "you will experience a major improvement in your area economy."

WORD FOR HOT STOVE GROWN-UPS!

We have mentioned it on numerous occasions before but it bears repeating again at this time in view of the successful Hot Stove League Little World Series games played Saturday afternoon at Wilder Field, Youngsville, for the County League, and War Memorial Field for Warren area clubs—A special word of praise and appreciation for the large group of adults who give of their valuable time and effort to keep this important youth project going along so successfully.

Every spectator who watched the imposing parade from downtown Warren to Memorial Field, must have been impressed by the large number of men in the procession. Arriving at the Field the players and their managers found the stands filled with fans, most of them men and women who have devoted the summer season helping to promote Little League Baseball in and around Warren. And the same situation was holding true at Wilder Field, where an enthusiastic group of fans and promoters were staging a similar benefit to help raise money needed to pay off a $400 deficit.

Without the generous volunteer support of the grown-ups the Hot Stove Leagues just naturally could not exist.

MOTHER NATURE—THE PAINTER

Late summer signs of the early arrival of Lady Autumn is showing scantily across country sides throughout Warren county.

Spotted here and there in the awesome woods of Allegheny National Forests are tree tops with rare exposure of premature autumn colors transforming in their leaves. Within six short weeks, this area will be a top tourist attraction with most beautiful and unbelievable colors which makes this section an annual fall masterpiece of that gifted Mother Nature.

WORLD TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, watching the Soviet star to come abreast of the United States, feels this country needs some driving urge to think less of leisure and money and more of work and achievement.

So, before setting out for Moscow later this year to return Premier Nikita Khrushchev's mid-September visit here, Eisenhower's thinking is being influenced by the Soviet efforts.

He is very conscious of those efforts. This may be why earlier this year, in his State of the Union message, he proposed creating a committee to suggest goals for America.

The President is now ready—although he hasn't said so publicly—to name this committee as soon as he can get private organizations to pay for its work. He doesn't want the government to foot the bill.

Eisenhower is known to think that national goals might give us an incentive toward which to work, just as the Soviet Union has had its five and seven-year plans. He looks upon those Soviet plans, which keep the people hard at work, as the moral equivalent of war.

He thinks we need something in our country as an incentive to get our minds on accomplishment and not on a shorter work week and more leisure.

We must attach more importance, he thinks, to good, hard work and less to progress by demagoguery or trying to make a million.

On the short work week, he recalls wartime talks with a French professor who said the cause of France's defeat in 1940 came from trying to match a French four-day week against Hitler's seven-day week.

The President, remembering Edward Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire," thinks that is what is happening to us now, that we are too interested in leisure and pleasure.

That's a gloomy view for a president. It seems to be overlooking one thing: That Gibbon's criterion for judging civilization and progress was the measure in which men's happiness is secured, and of that happiness he considered political freedom an essential condition.

So, while the Soviets have made material strides, their lack of freedom is the opposite of Gibbon's conception of happiness, while to Gibbon the freedom enjoyed by Americans would be a mark of progress, civilization, and happiness.

But Eisenhower seems to have varying views on the Soviet Union at various times.

While at one time he considers the seven-year plan as the moral equivalent of war and is impressed by the work it gets done, (Turn to Page Twelve)

Here and There

A communication received from Congressman Leon H. Gavin states that he is most pleased that after many years of effort the last obstacle has been removed and actual construction of the Allegheny River Reservoir can be undertaken. Action taken by the House and Senate Conference on the Public Works Appropriation Bill for Fiscal Year 1960 removes the provision requiring another study of the merits of alternate proposals and restores $1,400,000 toward construction of the project. The Conference Report was adopted by the House on August 14. Mr. Gavin said that earlier the Senate Appropriations Committee had stated that the alternate proposals had been adequately considered and reviewed both by the Corps of Engineers and independent consultants. Reservoir control in this area, the Congressman said, is urgently needed to reduce flood damage in the industrial and residential areas of the Allegheny Valley, and to conserve our water for useful domestic and industrial purposes. As a result of the floods during January 1959, the property damage for the entire River district was $27,821,856 and the people in the area are entitled to relief from these devastating and destructive floods which occur periodically. Mr. Gavin said that it was his opinion that work on the project will be resumed immediately. There are many details to be worked out, such as relocation of highways, railroads, acquisition of land, etc. before a contract can be let. However, he said, he wanted to assure the people that this matter will continue to receive his careful attention in the future just as it has received it in the past and that he sincerely hoped that all details can be worked out so a contract can be let at an early date for construction of the project.

Inside Relations With Trujillo Pose Big Riddle for the U.S.

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The United States is in something of a box over its relations with Dominican Republic.

The outward appearance of the box shows this little country costing the U.S. less money and trouble than any other Latin American government. Its aid program is under $200,000 a year. This all goes to 13 Americans giving technical assistance in education.

The U.S. signed a military assistance agreement with Dominican Republic in 1953. It had a U.S. Air Force mission for five years. Now there is only a 13-man Naval mission, running a training program on antisubmarine warfare. American commitments to Dominican Republic are embargoes.

The U.S. has made no loans to Dominican Republic. Its economy is one of the solidest in Latin America. Up to now it has had a favorable trade balance with the U.S., exporting principally sugar, coffee and cacao.

PRIVATE AMERICAN INVESTMENTS IN THE LITTLE country

—under 3 million people in an area about the size of Vermont and New Hampshire, east of Haiti on the Island of Hispaniola—are 100 million dollars. There are 6,000 Americans there, many of them, Puerto Ricans.

Diplomatic relations are correct, under the U.S. policy of maintaining friendship with all Latin American countries.

That is the good side of U.S.-D.R. relations—the outside of the box, so to speak. The inside of the box makes an entirely different story and it smells terrible. This may come out at the current Santiago, Chile, conference of Latin American foreign ministers.

In 1930 Rafael Leonidas Trujillo, chief of staff of the Dominican Army, threw the President in jail and took over.

He allowed his brother, Gen. Hector B. Trujillo to be elected President in 1932 and re-elected in 1937 under a one-party system.

Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo remains commander in chief of the armed forces. He also operates under the title of "Benefactor" for having purified the water supply, built sewers, roads, hospitals, schools, and nearly 2,000 statues of himself while making a fortune.

U.S. RELATIONS WITH TRUJILLO'S REGIME began to go to pot in 1956 over a succession of incidents.

First was the disappearance of Gerald Lester Murphy, an American pilot believed to have downed a drugged revolutionary leader, Jesus Galindez, to an unknown fate in Dominican Republic.

Second was the failure of Rafael L. Trujillo Jr., son of the Generalissimo, to win a diploma from the U.S. Army Command and Staff School at Fort Leavenworth, following his going-on with Kim Novak and Zsa Zsa Gabor in Hollywood.

This caused the Dominican Congress to pass a resolution denouncing all U.S. aid agreements. This was never put in effect, and it was later revoked.

But in October, 1958, it was revealed that the Dominican Secretary of Commerce had written eight U.S. Chambers of Commerce—with copies to the state governors—recommending action against U.S. senators and congressmen "vilifying the Dominican Republic."

Finally, the Dominican Republic granted asylum to dictators Juan Peron of the Argentine, Perez Jimenez of Venezuela, Fulgencio Batista of Cuba and Rojas Pinilla of Colombia.

BUT THINGS WENT FROM BAD TO WORSE WHEN Fidel Castro took over in Cuba. The two governments became openly hostile, Castro receiving wide Latin American support.

The United States is tossed right in the middle of this row by the Cuban faction's charge that this country is supporting Dictator Trujillo, having granted asylum to Perez Jimenez, and considering asylum for Batista.

Radio and TV

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—Television. In its quest for situations that lend themselves to comedy, finally has come to the case of a syndicated newspaper columnist.

Dennis O'Keefe is cast in the role of the columnist. Hal Towne, in a new situation comedy filmed weekly series that bows onto CBS-TV the night of Sept. 22, as "The Dennis O'Keefe Show."

Talk with O'Keefe for a while and you'll feel that it couldn't happen to a nicer guy. Why should a successful movie actor want to become a columnist?

"Because it's fun," says O'Keefe. "And we think a lot of other people are going to find it fun too."

As Hal Towne, O'Keefe not only will write six columns a week for his syndicate. He will face harassments (a crochety boss, a sharp-tongued housekeeper played by Hope Emerson), responsibilities (his motherless 10-year-old son played by Rickey Kelman), temptations (a beautiful lady press agent and various pretty girls). Nevertheless, he likes the job.

How to Keep Well

SNAKE BITES MAN

A vivid description of the struggle to survive a poisonous snake bite appeared in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association. The mishap occurred to a Philadelphia zoo keeper who almost lost his life despite prompt and excellent care. What would have happened if he had been a hundred miles from nowhere?

According to Dr. Thomas McCleary and Dr. Harold Wunzel, the man was bitten on the back of the hand by a 4 foot diamondback rattler. An incision was made through the bite within 10 minutes and a tourniquet applied at the midforearm. The victim sucked the wound while he was being rushed to the hospital, where he arrived within 30 minutes after the accident. By then, the hand was swollen and discolored but not painful.

The physician went to work immediately; the tourniquet was moved higher on the arm and the fangs were opened wide. A large dose of antivenom was injected into the arm at various levels.

Signs of poisoning began to develop. He started to perspire and complained of numbness about the mouth that made speaking difficult. Muscular twitching of the face spread gradually to all the muscle groups of the body. The lips turned blue and the temperature rose.

Sedatives were injected intravenously to control muscle twitching and saline compresses were applied to the wounds. He was given penicillin, streptomycin, blood transfusions, and more antivenom. Muscular twitching subsided in 48 hours but complications began to set in. Enlarged glands were noted and on the seventh day, bleeding occurred from a stomach ulcer that had developed. Hives followed the use of antivenom.

On the 10th day, the zoo keeper started on the upgrade and a few days later, was well enough to go home. The seriousness of a rattlesnake bite stems from the poisonous effects of the venom on the blood. Coagulation is reduced and the possibility of hemorrhage into vital organs, including the brain, must be considered.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if a stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

TOMORROW: Nocturnal muscular cramps.

Business Mirror

Editor's Note: What has the steel strike done so far to the economy and when will it really hurt? In the following, first of a series of three articles, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, summarizes an Associated Press survey of present conditions.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The government will step into the steel strike when it's a national emergency and not before. So says President Eisenhower. How long before the strike becomes a threat to the over-all economy?

A nation-wide survey by Associated Press reporters shows that—with few exceptions—users of steel are well stocked. Unemployment has hit transportation and mining industries closely tied to steel production.

But most steel users were able to lay in supplies from domestic or foreign mills. A few have been paying higher prices. A. O. Smith says it must close its pipe mill in Milwaukee now. Some other firms say they will run out of steel after Labor Day. More say they can hold out till October or later.

At Groton, Conn., the Electric Boat division of General Dynamics says it ordered steel so far in advance it can continue work on seven A-subbs for at least a year. In New York, General Dynamics says its other divisions have enough steel for at least another 60 days.

"The steel situation is going to get critical—like a tornado," says Marlow C. Hodge, owner of Steel Metal Products Inc. of Los Angeles, and vice president of the Sheet Metal Contractors Assn. of Southern California. "We know the danger is there because we can see it, but when?"

The auto industry, which uses about a fifth of all steel output, reports large stocks on hand because the strike seemed so sure for so long. It has an upcoming breather while no steel is being used during the model changeovers. Also the Detroit Steel Corp. isn't struck. And Ford's own steel plant isn't affected.

TUESDAY: How much longer can the building boom go on with present steel supplies?

Products Now Come Already Treated

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

New recruits to the homemaker's continuing effort to keep her home clean and sanitary are chemicals which provide an invisible but potent barrier to certain bacteria on clothing and furnishings.

These chemical finishes are being used on a variety of consumer goods and are identified by varying trade names.

To find out what the finishes are supposed to do and what it means to a homemaker, I visited the merchandise testing and developing laboratory of a large Chicago mail order firm where special chemical treatments for a range of different materials have been researched for use in home products.

Mildew and odor-causing bacteria are stopped in their tracks on treated products. The process uses a family of chemicals—about 12 of them in various combinations—each of which is specifically tailored to a specific material such as cotton, wool, rayon, leather and plastics.

The finish is applied, for the most part, during some stage of manufacture. Before any chemical finish is approved for use on this company's products, it has been elaborately tested to make sure there will be no toxic reactions. Finishes are also tested for durability.

While the chemicals do inhibit or prevent the growth of bacteria, they appear to have no effect on color, feel, strength or other physical properties.

Away from the laboratory, treated products have a practical appeal to homemakers. The sanitizing finish used on yard goods such as wool jersey, tweeds, wool and nylon mixtures will help prevent perspiration odor in clothes made from these materials. This is a point to consider if you're planning school

Homemaker tries out two sprays, one for nursery and one for shoes, to stop odor-causing bacteria.

wardrobes for the children. Its use on nursery pads, crib mattresses and plastic mattress covers means to a mother that they'll arrive from the store hygienically fresh and will resist growth of the odor-causing bacteria.

In humid climates, mildew damage can be checked in treated products.

Now available in shower curtains, vinyl mattress covers, tablecloths and yard goods, the finishing treatment will shortly be extended to rug cushions, underwear, lingerie, hosiery, shirts, shoe linings and handkerchiefs to mention a brief cross-section of types of products.

The sanitary finishes are conservatively described as durable. Recently introduced are two nontoxic chemical sprays which permit the homemaker to sanitize certain things herself. One of these is a spray intended for use in the nursery to keep diapers pails fresh, to retard bacterial growth in closets, drawers, diapers, cribs and bedding.

The other spray is for shoes and leather goods and is said to retard bacteria and mildew and to keep shoe interiors cleaner longer.

Alfred C. Andersons - Observe Anniversary

YOUNGVSVILLE—Forty-three relatives and friends from Falconer, Jamestown, Warren, North Warren and Youngsville gathered August 9 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Anderson, 931 Market street, Warren, to help them celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary.

Married in 1919 in France, during World War I, the bride of 40 years welcomed her guests in a brown and silver lace gown with which she wore a moonstone necklace, gift from her husband.

Entertaining for the anniversary occasion were Mrs. Gladys Linday Youngsville; Mrs. Margaret Joyce North Warren; and Alfred Anderson, Warren, children of the celebrants. The guest book was in charge of a granddaughter, Nancy Marie Linday.

Pastel shades were used in table appointments, with a large cake suitably inscribed and adorned with pink and white roses. Guests were greeted French style, with cake, punch and coffee served.

The honored ones were recipients of many beautiful cards, money and other gifts, and two bouquets of lovely flowers, along with best wishes for many more years of happily married life together.

Following the open house for friends, the family enjoyed a picnic supper and dancing.

Don't Be Slave to a House, Plan Work Efficiently

Some housewives spend a whole dreary day doing the same amount of work other women can finish in a couple of hours.

What's the difference?
A housewife who has her home in shining order by 10 every morning and is free to do as she pleases the rest of the day explains it this way:

"In the first place I never let myself get behind with my work. Whatever needs to be done, I do immediately. I never sit and stare at a job. I just do it."

"In the second place, I never make extra work for myself. I put things away when they are used, clean up after myself as I cook, throw out useless things that make clutter, and so on. It's amazing how much easier housekeeping becomes once you cultivate such habits."

"In the third place, I get started working as soon as breakfast is out of the way. Lots of women sit around and read the newspaper, put on a second pot of coffee, make several long telephone calls, wander over to a neighbor's house and get to talking while the time slips by. By the time these women are ready to go to work, my housework is finished."

"But most important of all, I guess, in streamlining housework is the determination not to be a slave to a house."

"The thing that really keeps a woman from putting around all day at housework is wanting to get out and do other things."

Maybe there's a helpful hint or two here for women who claim that housework keeps them so busy they never have time for anything else.

Four Exhibition Games in National Football League

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Y. A. Tittle, San Francisco's leading quarterback with a penchant for last-second heroics, is a leading exponent of the blitzkrieg attack in the National Football League.

Four exhibition games were played during the weekend. Each was a heart-palpitator. Each was a toss-up. Each was won in the last period with electrifying plays.

Title's was the most prominent example of the blitzkrieg and the most dramatic.

The 49ers trailed Washington 24-20 Sunday. The stadium clock showed 39 seconds remaining. Title began to formulate moves. The 13-year pro veteran picked rookie Paul Lowe of Oregon State for the team's share of the running duties. The 18-second responded with a key 40-yard scamper.

Nine seconds remained four plays later. Title had his forces massed on the Redskins 16. He faded back, picked out and Clyde Conner and fired a pass for the touchdown that gave the 49ers a 27-24 victory in their debut under new Coach Red Hickey.

It was the same story Saturday Zekie Brankowski's toss to Rick Casares with 41 seconds remaining gave the Chicago Bears a 19-16 victory over Green Bay. John Crow went 71 yards for a TD in the final three minutes as Chicago's Cardinals edged Detroit 21-19. A 43-yard jump by Walt Kozlowski midway of the final period provided the winning margin as Philadelphia defeated New York 21-17.

Eastern Cadet All-Stars shut out Western All-Stars 7-0 in Memorial Field Stove day on War. Tournellott is manager of the winners. Richard Tucker heads the Western group.

Jeff Brooks, Dick Cedarquist and Chip Lucia combined mound talents to pitch one-hit ball. Jon Marti and Kenney Peterson received.

Dick Thompson and Bruce Riggs were feuding stars. Thompson made a "circus catch" to rob Jim Senger of a sure hit. Johnson and Engle did the hurling for Western losers. Seymour and Creola catching.

Steelers Leaning Heavily on Layne Having Good Year

(One of a Series)
By STERLING SLAPPEY
PITTSBURGH (AP)—The football concern of Parker-Layne and Co., is in business in Pittsburgh after abandoning the old home of fies in Detroit.

Coach Buddy Parker, quarterback Bobby Layne and the National League Steelers certainly should have a good year — if Layne can keep his health.

However, if Layne should be injured and become unavailable for the 12-game schedule, there's no telling how much of a wreck it would make of Parker's club.

"Bobby Layne is the works as far as professional quarterbacking is concerned," said Coach Parker, who over Cleveland earlier this week.

The Steelers have never won even a division title and if they do this year, they will be able to trace the title back to the day Parker brought in his old Detroit helmpate, Layne.

In his complete rebuilding program at Pittsburgh, Parker also acquired and Jimmy Orr to catch Layne's passes, fullback Larry Krukto to make a few runs spacing apart Layne's passes. Tom Tracy to back over touchdowns after Layne's passes got the Steelers well down the field and a good, big, fast line to protect Layne while he passes.

Many of Parker's acquisitions have turned out well. Some were sour. But Pittsburgh is on the rise in 1959 and Cleveland was the first to know even if it was merely an exhibition.

Layne runs his club once it's on the field. He runs it with such a strong hand that many Steeler players are reported to be scared to death of Layne.

In a huddle the blond Texan blasts the men who erred on the previous play, grants an okay to those who did the blocking and curtly orders up the next play.

Mike Souchak Is Winner of Annual Motor City Open

By DAVE DILES

DETROIT (AP)—Now that Mike Souchak has decided to become one of the idle rich for a few months, perhaps other golfers will be able to register a little profit here and there.

Big Mike won the $25,000 Motor City Open Golf Tournament Sunday without a struggle. He went into the final round protecting a seven stroke lead, shot a 69 and won by nine.

The payoff was $3,500. That makes it $14,000 over the last five weeks and $46,000 for the year, including some unofficial money like the $10,000 he won at the Tournament of Champions in Las Vegas.

Wightman Cup Is Back in Custody Of U. S. Players

By ED CORRIGAN

SEWICKLEY, Pa. (AP) — The Wightman Cup is back in its usual nesting place in the U. S. today. And if the British hope to win it again, they're going to have to find a teammate for Christine Truman.

The British won last year in a big upset. It marked the first time they triumphed since 1930 and they figured they should keep it, especially since the Americans were without the services of Althea Gibson.

But the American lassies won by taking four of seven week-end matches.

Cubs' Shortstop Hit in the Back Baffles Medicos

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—Indestructible Ernie Banks long has amazed the baseball world with the power he generates within his lithe body.

The Chicago Cub shortstop now is baffling medical science. Banks, who easily could become the rst to be named the National League's most valuable player in two successive seasons, was hit in the back by one of Jack Sanford's fast balls in the first inning of Saturday's game against San Francisco.

The 28-year-old shortstop cringed with pain but continued to play. By the sixth inning he was forced to leave because his shoulder stiffened.

Doctors said it would be three or four days before he could play again.

Chicago Cub manager Bob Scheffing said "we'll wait and see."

Banks showed up a Wrigley Field Sunday and went to the rubbing table. After some 40 minutes of heat treatment, he suited up and took his position on the field.

Willie Mays hit a two run homer in the first inning to put the Giants ahead. Banks came up in the bottom of the first with one on and two out and his 36th homer into the left field bleachers.

Cardwell Finally Makes It Over Hump

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Righthander Don Cardwell of the Philadelphia Phillies has finally made it over the hump.

Cardwell brought his record to 7-7 and won his fifth game in his last six starts Sunday with a six-hit 6-0 shutout over the Cincinnati Reds in the nightcap of a doubleheader. The Phillies also captured the opener 8-5 as Robin Roberts (11-12) held off a late Reds rally.

Joe Koppe and Wally Post had sparked the double win by belting key home runs. Koppe's three-run homer in a six-run sixth inning of the opener gave the Phillies enough cushion to offset the late Cincinnati rally in which Gus Bell hit his second homer of the game and Willie Jones also belted one.

Conewango Gives Up Cash Register Stolen in June

Shallow waters of Conewango creek gave up a stolen cash register today.

Burdette Weiler of the State Hospital farm, said two farm tractor drivers made the discovery this morning and salvaged the register, stolen from Faudry's restaurant in North Warren in June.

Alfred Davies spied the object while crossing a small bridge spanning Conewango, while heading toward the State farm about 8:30 a. m. Another tractor driver, Clayton McClintock, Jr., rolled up his pants and started wading out after the register.

The register was in deep water, so McClintock shed his clothes and swam out after the heavy register.

Deputy Sheriff Donnell Allen was notified of the find. The register was unlocked and all money gone.

should be amended to make a portion of it temporary.

He said his own preference is that it automatically be reduced to 3 per cent June 1, 1961. Such an action would mean the 1961 Legislature would have to reenact an additional 1 per cent levy if revenue is not to be lost.

The Republican strategy is based on a possibility that the levy would produce more revenue than would be actually needed in the next biennium, 1961-63.

Other legislative developments:

GRADUATE INCOME TAX — House Republican Leader Albert W. Johnson said he would recommend to the GOP caucus that the party withhold support for a constitutional amendment authorizing a graduated income tax of up to six per cent.

GAS TAX — A proposed penny-a-gallon boost in the 5-cent gasoline tax moves toward a House showdown with its chances uncertain.

Democratic sources said the proposal is in trouble unless Republicans provide some support. Johnson said it would be discussed at the GOP caucus today.

SALES TAX — The Senate Republican leadership also agreed Sunday night on these amendments to the sales tax:

- Exempting television and radio broadcasting equipment.
- Exempting materials used in constructing a foundation for machinery.
- Exempting janitorial supplies and other maintenance materials purchased by charitable and educational institutions.
- Exempting materials, particularly automobiles, brought into Pennsylvania by new residents or new industry if they were purchased six months prior to the move.

—Increase from two to five years the time when a taxpayer may file suit for taxes erroneously or illegally collected.

Registration Race Led by Democrats

In past two weeks, Democrats in Warren County nearly registered four times more new voters than did the Republican party.

Figures totaled after Saturday's registration, shows 100 new Democrats now eligible voters, as compared to 27 Republicans, all of which registered past two weeks.

County-wide totals for the two parties shows narrowing margin now held by Republicans. Not so many weeks ago, GOP held a better than half edge on Democrats. As it now stands, Republicans have 11,997 voters, Democrats 6,013.

There are 18,877 persons in Warren County eligible to go to the polls.

Space Monkey Reported Too Young To Marry

PENSACOLA, Fla. (U)—Miss Baker, the space monkey, is still too young to marry, says a Navy physiologist.

The only reason a male monkey shared her cage for a couple of weeks was to alleviate a "monkey housing problem" at Pensacola Naval Air Station, said Dr. Donald Stullken.

The housing shortage has been solved and Miss Baker's platonic friend has moved out. But the scientists are hunting a bridegroom in anticipation of the day she reaches maturity.

Miss Baker, a young squirrel monkey, survived a 1,700-mile ride in the nose cone of a ballistic missile May 28. She was accompanied by Able, a Rhesus monkey, on the 10-mile on hour trip. Able later died on the operating table.

750 Ill from Food Poisoning at Picnic

ANGOLA, Ind. (AP)—The State Health Board and Miles Laboratories of Elkhart ran tests today to determine what caused the food poisoning of 750 adults and children at a Miles outing.

None of the victims was in serious condition and all but a handful were out of hospitals, but they were violently ill Saturday at a company picnic near here.

Dr. Andrew C. Offutt, state health commissioner, said the poisoning could have been a result of the picnic lunch remaining a few hours in an unrefrigerated truck.

Doctors described the poisoning as a mild form, but it left its victims in misery.

"People were dropping all around me like flies," said Earl Buckmaster, 36, Elkhart, a Miles employee.

About 3,000 persons attended the picnic.

Baby Born in Airliner 9,000 Feet in the Sky

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Suzanne Ector squaled into this world 10 days ahead of time and 9,000 feet over Missouri Sunday.

Mrs. Hugh Ector, 27, of Argenta, B.C., Canada, gave birth to the 8-pound, 4-ounce girl in an airliner with the stewardess and two passengers as midwives.

Mother and daughter were taken to a Memphis hospital after the Delta Air Lines plane landed here and are doing fine.

Mrs. Ector was en route to visit her parents at Sylva, Miss. She felt the first faint labor pains at Chicago, but figured she would reach Jackson, Miss., in time. She was wrong.

Ike and Grandson Get In Some Early Golf

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower, with his 11-year-old grandson as his partner, got in some early morning golf today in advance of a visit to his Hotel Gettysburg office.

The President and David showed up at the Gettysburg Country club at 7:40 a. m., earlier than his usual time!

The hour apparently was too early for Eisenhower's house guests and frequent golfing companions, Clifford Roberts, Walton Jones and William E. Robinson.

SENATE SET TO TAKE UP NEW HOUSING BILL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate takes up today a new $1,050,000,000 housing bill to replace one which President Eisenhower vetoed.

There was a possibility the measure might go to the White House late in the day. If the Senate acts in time, the House may take it up at once under a rule suspension procedure requiring a two-thirds vote.

The bill is trimmed down below the $1,375,000,000 total in the measure Eisenhower vetoed last month. But it still retains all the major programs of the earlier version in a reduced form.

The veto was upheld in the Senate last Wednesday on a 53-41 vote, 9 short of the two-thirds needed to override. The Senate Banking Committee then whipped out the substitute bill Thursday.

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.) floor manager for the measure predicted it would be approved promptly. He conceded the bill had been shaped with the idea that the House could take it without change.

No official word has come from the administration, however, that President Eisenhower is willing to accept the new measure.

Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.), senior Republican on the Housing subcommittee, said he believed the President would sign the bill. If he does not, Capehart said, there will be enough votes to override a second veto.

The bill contains authorizations for several government-backed housing programs and also several provisions designed to aid the private home building industry.

G.O.P. Committee Plans Important Meeting Tuesday

One of the most important meetings in the history of the Warren County Republican Committee is scheduled for eight o'clock Tuesday evening at the TWCA building, called for the purpose of electing a chairman to fill the vacancy created by the death of the late Allen M. Gibson, and to name a candidate to represent the party for State Assembly on the November election ballot, vacant since the passing of the former Assemblyman Gibson.

Miss Sunny Lucia, vice chairman, will preside, and it is expected the attendance will be nearly 100 per cent, since it is understood voting by proxy will not be permitted, under the rules and by-laws of the committee.

It is anticipated four candidates will be nominated for Assemblyman, one of whom will be elected to have his name as the party candidate on the November ballot. They are: Attorney Joseph H. Goldstein and Emmons R. Jones, of this city; Attorney John H. Stewart, Akeley; and Glenn E. Thompson, Grand Valley. All have been campaigning vigorously during the past few weeks.

Only two candidates are known to be considered for Chairman — Attorney Samuel Bonavita, and William E. Rice, both of this city.

Child Second Victim Of Accident at Park

LEWISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A second four-year-old child died early today from injuries suffered when an amusement device broke and plunged to the ground in a park at nearby Belleville Saturday.

The Lewistown Hospital reported Mary Ann Crowner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Crowner, of Belleville, succumbed to a fractured skull.

Marjorie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilson, of Belleville was killed outright in the accident.

The children were riding side by side on a device which swings two passenger cages around in a circle and up and down. The guide bar on the youngsters' cage broke.

at another time he notes that to increase production, the Communists must offer incentives, like extra pay.

There is, of course, an essential difference between Khrushchev's seven-year plan and any American goals thought up by a study committee.

One is mandatory in a soviet where the state has absolute control over the people and the means of production; the other would have to be voluntary in a free enterprise system.

Khrushchev, for instance, can order Soviet steel production capacity doubled and at the same time not only can find a ready market for every ounce of steel produced but decide where and for what it shall be used.

No matter what goals a president's committee proposes, the steel industry is free to increase its capacity only as there is a free and competitive market for its product.

Eisenhower never precisely explained in his State of the Union message just what goals he had in mind. Presumably, he would let his committee figure this out.

He said the committee would be concerned with living standards, health, education, greater assurance of life, liberty and opportunities, and methods to meet such goals, and what state, federal and local governments should be concerned.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

You think you're wife is expensive? Mme. Pompadour, famous 18th century French mistress, is reported to have spent $100,000 a year on perfume alone, just to smell nice for King Louis XV.

Feeling tired and rundown? Why not try a wonder drug popular with the ancient Greeks? They thought you'd have good health and long life if you drank a portion of wine, cloves, and hippopotamus fat. Either red or white wine will do, but be sure the hippopotamus fat is properly chilled.

How times change! Comic George de Witt says he saw a late movie on television that was so old the Germans were bad guys!

The Schick electric razor people just got a shock. A poll they made disclosed 200,000 U.S. men now wear beards, and the number is growing.

Incidentally, can you name the first American president with a beard? It was Abraham Lincoln, who at 50 started letting his whiskers sprout after an 11-year-old girl had written and suggested a beard would make him look more dignified.

Latest fad-of-the-week in Greenwich Village? Dyeing eyebrows a color different from the hair.

When you enter a store for the first time, in which direction do you turn? About 79 per cent of Americans instinctively turn to the right.

Facts that will get you no where: You spend as much energy in opening and closing your eyes in a year as it would take to hoist an 8-year-old child to your shoulder once.

You can't get a ride in a two-tone gondola in Venice. These water-borne taxis, in use there for nearly a thousand years, are traditionally painted black.

In most of Europe convicts aren't given an added sentence for trying to make a prison break. Their desire to escape is taken as normal.

Old gags never die: Singer Lisa Kirk tells of the indignant woman who complained to the zookeeper that the monkeys were gambling at cards. "It's all right," soothed the keeper. "They're only playing for peanuts."

A democracy has been described as a country in which you can call the president anything you want to, but you have to be polite to the traffic cops.

Speaking of traffic cops, never tell them, "I'm sorry." For some reason—probably because they feel it is usually insincere—this is the phrase that infuriates them most.

If your wife wonders why she is getting fat, tell her this: She is probably still eating as much as her mother did. But where her mother needed 3,000 calories to get through the day, she herself needs only 2,000 calories because modern home appliances make her life so much easier.

On the other hand, if you like to keep your home life happy, don't tell your wife any such thing. We're still the talkiest people on earth. The world now has about 120 million telephones, of which 63 million are in the United States.

It was John Ruskin who observed: "There is no wealth but life."

Brooklyn Court Room Scene of Unusual Drama

By JAMES DEVLIN
NEW YORK (AP)—"Is this your husband?"

Mrs. Seymour Kroll of Utica, N. Y., peered intently at Seymour Kroll of Brooklyn in Brooklyn Federal Court Friday, then shook her head.

"Definitely not," she said.

Kroll breathed a sigh of relief and smiled.

He had been arrested Aug. 9 on a warrant charging him with abandonment of a wife and four children in Utica 10 years ago.

Kroll, who has a wife and a child of his own, protested he was an innocent victim of identical names. He said he never had heard of the Utica Mrs. Kroll and never had been in Utica.

Magistrate David Malbin dismissed the abandonment charge not only on the word of the upstate woman that Kroll was not her missing husband, but on evidence gathered by Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Edward S. Silver.

Kroll's attorney, Irving M. Berg, told newsmen he intended to file a million-dollar false arrest suit on behalf of Kroll.

Silver said the fingerprints of the two men did not match, that they had different Social Security numbers, and that the Brooklyn Kroll was born in New York 35 years ago and the missing Kroll was born in Chicago 46 years ago.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Arthur Darri-grant of Oneida County, who accompanied the Utica Mrs. Kroll to the hearing, expressed apologies of Oneida County authorities to Kroll. He said they had acted in good faith on information that proved erroneous.

"It's a great relief," said Kroll, an aviation company clerk.

YOUNGSMIRE

YOUNGSMIRE — Red Circle of the Methodist church held a picnic on the lawn at the home of Mrs. R. H. Knapp, with 13 in attendance. Mrs. Alice Shurwin conducted a brief meeting, when it was planned to order stationery with the church picture for sale by members.

The study book lesson was postponed until the next meeting; Mrs. Shurwin gave the invocation and Barbara Hill conducted devotions. Mrs. Knapp was assisted by Mrs. Barbara Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Pierson were guests recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Pierson. Neil Pierson has returned to Philadelphia and will sail on the USS Galveston for a four-month cruise in the Caribbean, his wife remaining here during his absence.

A. E. Dillon, Washington, has been spending a few days at his home, Dillon Place.

Friends of Mrs. Virgil Peters are sorry to hear she is very ill and a patient in Westfield, N. Y., Memorial Hospital.

POWER SAW ACCIDENT

A sixteen-year-old Pittsfield youth was admitted to Corry Memorial Hospital Wednesday following an accident with a power saw. Ivan E. FLOOD CONTROL FUND

The French Creek Valley flood control survey has been allocated $50,400 in a House-Senate Conference Committee's compromise bill for public works. The bill now must be approved by both the House and the Senate. Even if passed there is a possibility of a presidential veto since the total bill is about 30 million dollars over the president's budget recommendation.

LAND FOR PARK

The Cochran Lions Community Park, Inc., signed an agreement of sale Wednesday night to buy approximately 10 acres of land in the borough for a community park. The group, a nonprofit organization of members of the Cochran Lions Club, has been making plans for a number of months. The goal which may take four or five years, is a beautiful park with full recreational facilities for the public.

CITED IN FARM DEATHS

Corry Journal: Five youths, 16 and 17 years of age, have been cited under a juvenile petition to be taken into juvenile court in Erie and Warren counties by State Police from the local barracks. Officers Thursday cited Terry Webb, 17, R. D. 1, Corry and Allan W. Dingfelder, 16, R. D. 1, Corry for a hearing in Erie County court, and James L. Roache, 17, RD 1, Corry; Paul Cooper, 16, Spring Creek, and Harold Miles, 17, RD 1, Bear Lake, for Warren County court. Officers said the youths are charged with stealing gasoline and a battery from Paul Blakeslee who lives three miles south of Corry. Officers said the youths also cut the twine on baled hay which was loaded on a wagon. Police pointed out that where a motor vehicle is used in the commission of a crime the license and registration are revoked for a period of one year.

Union Calls A&P Strike in District

A & P Store employees in Titusville, Franklin and Oil City went on strike at midnight Friday night for a substantial wage increase and for better working conditions, generally.

Members of Amalgamated Meatcutters and Butcher Workmen of North America Local 590, AFL-CIO, voted to strike after the chain food concern reportedly rejected the union's proposals for a new contract.

Some of the striking employees left early Saturday for Youngstown where they will picket A & P stores and the A & P warehouse in that city. Stores in Titusville, Franklin and Oil City, are part of the Youngstown district of A & P.

The strike came without warning. The union local met in Titusville at 9:30 Friday, breaking up shortly before midnight.

AIDING VETERANS

Governor David L. Lawrence has announced that Warren is among 43 Pennsylvania counties providing veterans, without charge, the certified documents needed for the Korean Bonus. The governor said a check of each recorder's office in the 67 counties showed that about 65 per cent of the recorders are furnishing certified copies of veterans' separation documents without cost to the veteran. In most cases, the cost is being borne by the county commissions. "I am pleased to hear that so many counties are making it possible for our veterans to obtain, at no cost, the Pennsylvania Korean Bonus they have earned and so richly deserved," Lawrence said. The Korean Conflict Veterans' Compensation Bureau, which made the check of all county recorders, said two dollars is the highest fee being charged veterans in the counties where a charge is being made for a certified copy of the "Report of Separation," Form DD-214. Each veteran must submit a certified copy of this document with his bonus application in the fall.

Claims application forms may be obtained by writing to the Foreign Claims Settlement Commission, Washington 25, D. C.
